You hereby agree to follow the security procedure when requesting a wire transfer via telephone.

Impossibility of Performance

For International remittances, you must provide a timely notice of an error to us within 180 days of the disclosed date of availability or within 60 days after receiving your statement or any other notice from us. If the transfer was not sent properly, TruMark Financial will refund the amount of the transfer within three (3) business days while we investigate the error.

At that time, you may request the funds to be applied towards a new remittance transfer, rather than be refunded (if they have not already been processed as a refund). We may deduct taxes, fees, or other charges from the transfer amount if already deducted from the transferred amount. We will investigate any claim and correct any error within 90 days after the sender provides a notice of error.
